

Andersens Fairy Tales (Chinese Edition)

This series of books are adaptation of world-famous literature works which are dedicated to pupils between grade one and grade three who have just started classic reading. All the books are adapted by children literature writers and frontline teachers, based on the reading habits and interests of children, which suit reading and retelling better. To help children read the classics independently, the books all have pinyin. And the stories are reorganized in chapters. Children can finish one chapter at a time and start a new one after that. And on every page, there are fine illustrations painted by professional painters, which can help children better understand the content of words and have better aesthetic appreciation.
