Not illustrated. 1880 Excerpt: ...asked the pilgrims whence they came; and they told them. They also asked them where they had lodged, what difficulties and dangers, what comforts and pleasures, they had met in the way; and they told them. Then said the men that met them, You have but two difficulties more to meet with, and then you are in the ity. Christian then, and his companion, asked the men to go along with them; so they told them that they would. But, said they, you must obtain it by your own faith. So I saw in my dream that they went on together till they came in sight of the gate. Now I further saw, that betwixt them and the gate was a river; but there was no bridge to go over, and the river was very deep. At the sight, therefore, of this river, the pilgrims were much stunned; but the men that went with them said, You must go through, or you cannot come at the gate. The pilgrims then began to inquire if there was no other way to the gate; to which they answered, Yes; but there hath not any save two, to wit, Enoch and Elijah, been permitted to tread that path since the foundation of the world, nor shall until the last Death is not trumPet shall sound. The pilgrims then, especially Christian, began to welcome to despond in his mind, and looked this way and that; but no way could be though by it found by them by which they might escape the river. Then they asked of this world the men if the waters were all of a depth. They said, No; yet they into glory, could not help them in that case; for, said they, you shall find it deeper or shallower as you believe in the King of the place. They then addressed themselves to the water; and, entering, Christian began to sink, and crying out to his good friend Hope...
